The history, a precious wealth of experience, for Balma Capoduri & C. started in 1924. The considerable investment in machinery and facilities pointed to a clear industrial vocation of a Company where everything, from cardboard packaging to aluminium containers for one of its most successful products, "Coccolina", used to be autonomously planned and produced within the Company. Over the years, new technologies (information science and industrial automation), new products and needs (above all environmental protection) have developed; but Balma, Capoduri & C.- thanks to its experience and renewal oriented entrepreneurial philosophy - has always been able to keep up with the times, sometimes even ahead of its time: as an example, we can mention the pilot plant for reducing pollution both inside and outside the factory that was installed when ecological problems were no cause for concern as they are nowadays.

FATTORI SAFEST was founded in 1885, by Cesare Fattori, whose father had already been in the sector and who operated an artisanal workshop specializing in the engraving and stamping of documents. This became the first Italian factory producing perforating machines, stamping machines and dry marking machines. The owner's dedication, combined with a commitment to research and the development of innovative and effective solutions, soon brought the company to a leadership position in its sector, and in 1910, it was awarded the Diploma Medaglia D'Oro [Gold Medal] on the occasion of the Genoa Industrial Expo. The company continued to grow throughout the twentieth century: in 1953 it was acquired by Eng. Fermo Ghidini, and the subsequent merger with the German company Safest put the finishing touch on its leap from small artisanal concern to international industrial player.

Mi chiamo Franco Lamperti sono nato nel '63 a Milano, mio padre era un imprenditore creativo ed innovatore che lavorava con il ferro e con la ghisa. Da lui ho ereditato la sua forza innovatrice e l'amore per la creazione. In gioventù mi sono trasferito in Spagna dove ho vissuto diversi anni, ai tempi Barcellona era una città in crescita, creativa e ricca di stimoli. In quel periodo ho avuto la mia idea ed a metà degli anni '90 sono tornato in Italia per costruire la mia famiglia e realizzare il mio sogno. Creare un prodotto senza tempo, un'opera d'arte alla portata di tutti, che potesse regalare emozioni ai più piccoli come ai più grandi. Con queste intenzioni è nato Colorvelvet. Colorvelvet è un quadretto da colorare in rilievo di velluto su carta assorbente. I disegni per piccoli e grandi sono tutte creazioni originali che prendono vita dall'immaginario mio e dei miei collaboratori. Da sempre porto avanti il mio progetto con amore e dedizione, credendo sempre nei miei sogni ed essendo consapevole che, con colorvelvet, tutti posso averne di propri.

The work cycle begins with the implementation of the model. It is performed by expert sculptors to give life, thanks to their imagination, to figurines in various sizes using wax and modeling by hand. Each piece is a small work of art that expresses the costume and the classic colors of the crib and renaissance art world. Subsequently from the model a silicone rubber mold is born from which the foundry plaster model is extracted. From this model, in the foundry, is made the metal mold in which, during production, the liquid plastic material is injected using injection machines. Inside our factory we also make huts and accessories in wood, cork and moss. Fountains are born, working fires, moving figures that allow, especially for children, to be able to set the figures in a suggestive scenery that recalls the colors and the characteristics of the wonderful Italian landscape.

The dedication, passion and care with which Gennaro created the crib did not go unnoticed in the eyes of one of the many travelers of the famous street so much so that the latter asked him if that crib was for sale ... And so, for a fortuitously, Gennaro found himself having to build another nativity scene, then another and then another. Impronte d'Autore was founded in 1896 in the very Milan's center. And here we are today, with our production facility and our retail outlet. In late '80s we started the production of Rubber Stamps to be used with a wide assortment of inks, tools and accessories to make cards and decorate objects, scrapbooking albums, furniture...

Today we manufacture in Italy our line of Decorative Rubber Stamps. We make them with a modern equipment, still following the good old process. Because we like the sound of our natural rubber leaving the pigment ink, shaped in a perfect image, on the card we are making. To see how Customers are surprised by the perfection of the print they can get with their own hands is still the true key to the success of Rubber Stamping! We design our line of stamps in house, in a continuous and happy cooperation with our Customers, Friends and Designers. And make them with the typical care that only old craftspeople adopt as a... way of living! Even though our workers are often very young and there are more Macs than heads in our workshop! Dealing with Paper is a natural step in the Impronte d'Autore world: the Italian highest quality paper for crafting is manufactured by the Cordenon's paper mill. Located in the very northern part of Italy, this industry shows the vision we look for in a partner! The endless research for quality in their paper products and the maniacal quest for creative solutions in a field which is more than traditional is exactly what we could call "a comfortable environment" to work in. That's why we manufacture our paper products exclusively out of Cordenon's paper stock.

In Arezzo, a Tuscany town 50 km far from Florence, the cradle of Renaissance painting, land of ancient traditions and strong inspirations, in 1999, from the twenty years experience of its founder in brushes' production, the young and dynamic brand "Tintoretto" was born. From the very beginning we based ourselves on the research of quality of raw materials and of the manufacture process, developing over the years a wide range of brushes allowing us to meet any artistic need, which make us the leading company in Italy in the field of fine arts brushes.
